

■ What Learning Needs does each program address?

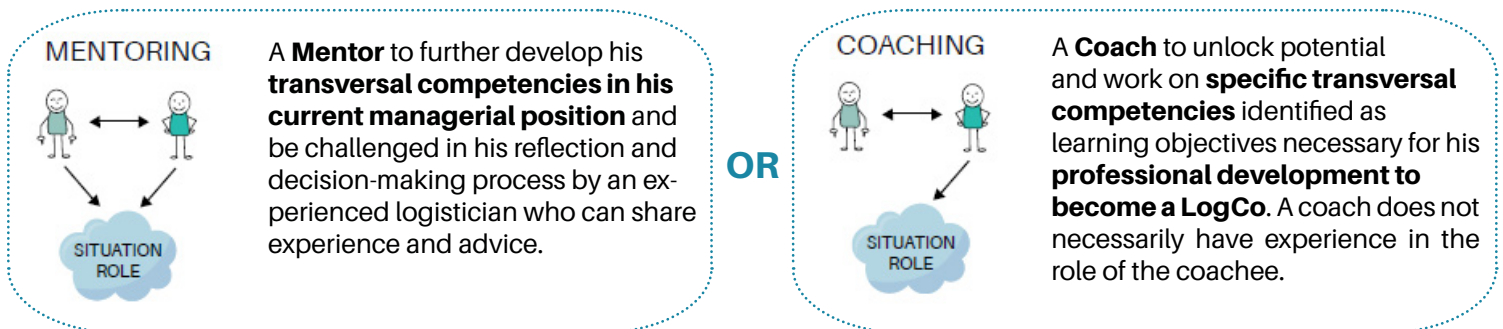

The mentee/coachee/team being coached determines the learning objectives.

■ What is the difference between Mentoring and Individual Coaching?

Let's consider the following example:

Muhammed is originally a specialist logistician and would like to become a LogCo. His professional development plan is to get more experience as a generalist logistician. He is currently a Log Manager and reflects on the following two ways to use the Mentoring and Coaching program offered by MSF. Muhammed could choose to have:
